Work of Organization.

Each of the above gentlemen was interviewed personally by me and in a general way, the idea of the day was discussed. Each Iuna went through his district and had the posters distributed which the central committee had provided. After this personal inspection had been made, eight of the Iunas met together one evening and thoroughly discussed the program for the day. Written suggestions to each Iuna, which had been prepared, were thoroughly discussed; a copy of these instructions is appended to this report. Present at that meeting were also Inspectors Duran and Hurley of the Board of Health, who gave valuable advice. Both of these gentlemen assisted in District 7A, during clean-up day and the day previous. Each Iuna has filed with me his report in writing, all of which are appended to this report. It is my suggestion that you immediately transmit these reports to the president of the Board of Health. They contain a great deal of detailed observations, which if used at once undoubtedly will be of service to the Board of Health in checking up the work of the regular inspectors.

Day's Work.

Headquarters for the district were on Judd Street and were efficiently presided over by Alfred C. Young, as clerk. Joshua D. Pratt was a great assistance during the day as messenger, driving his own auto. Through the courtesy of the Estate of S. G. Wilder, Limited, a vacant lot on Kuakini Street was used as a temporary dumping ground, the rubbish on which has already been cleared off by the authorities.

Through a misunderstanding which need not be detailed here, the wagons assigned to this district did not appear on time, and it was not until 9:40 that the first load of rubbish began to move. Nine carts of various capacities were in use during the day. Exact record of the number of loads handled during the day was not kept. I believe more than one hundred loads were handled. Twelve laborers, also provided by headquarters, were employed; six of these all day in emptying the carts at the dump and the other six in cleaning premises along Waikahulu Lane and on School Street.

Ideas Brought Out.

It may be well to summarize in this report the ideas brought out in the discussions which have taken place between the Iunas above named. We have endeavored to find out what should be done to make District 7A a better place to live in. Drainage. The awaus on Lihiliha Street are disgraceful to the city. They are today nothing but open sewers. Many perennial springs exist in this district, the largest of which is Kunawai Spring. These supply drinking water and washing places although the pollution of the springs by surface water is beyond question.

(2) Sewerage. Except in a few places in the district no more unsuitable conditions for the disposal of sewerage by cesspools can be imagined. A stratum of volcanic rock in many places is near the surface and almost all the soil is the tan-colored mud known by the Hawaiians as halo. There is little seepage through this clay. The public sewer on Nuuanu Street stops at Bates Street. On Lihiliha Street there is no sewer above Judd Street.

(3) Water System. The chief streets in the district have water mains and many private pipes run from these mains on the lanes into the middle of the blocks. But the blocks in this district are so large that many of the residents have not easy access to the public water system and get their water for drinking and household purposes from the polluted streams and awaus.

(4) Fire Protection. Protection against fire to the houses in this district does not exist above the elevation of Bates Street. Below Bates Street in many places this protection is nil. Because the blocks are so large, the Fire Department can handle only those fires which occur near the streets, and with their horse-drawn engines can never cover but a small portion of the district.
